Parliament Will Sift

Ottawa, June 15th.—Silence reigns about the houses of parliament. Legislators of both houses have left for their homes and constituencies or for holidays to recuperate from their seasonal labors and possibly to get ready for an autumn election. That is the rumor so current. The closing days of the session were pretty strenuous. Members were at their desks from morning till late at night, passing bills and estimates. Human nature being what it is, there will always be important legislation left over till the very last minute, and this was the case of much of the controversy that raged during the last day of the session particularly in the senate over the mortgage bank bill. On the other hand a bill of importance takes time to mature and take form in the minds of those who originate it. In this case the Minister of Finance and his associates—and undoubtedly the bill was not in shape to be presented to the house in the early days of the session. In any event the mortgage bill is now on the statute books and the Senate Some Measures Passed

During Session

In addition to the mortgage bill which has as its major objective the construction of telephonic and rural mortgage system of telephony on a healthier basis, outstanding measures of the session were those embodying the new agricultural program. This legislation embraced all branches of the agricultural industry. It provided means to encourage cooperative marketing, and aimed at establishing a broad foundation for those engaged in primary production, by securing them a minimum level of subsistence. The price for wheat was guaranteed at seventy cents a bushel. Port Wheat, the guarantee on an equivalent basis being extended to all Canadian wheat producers. Combined with this was an acreage bonus bill to prevent farmers from growing too much of one crop, were destroyed. There were measures in the program to encourage and improve the production of the dairy, and to aid other branches of the dairy industry. An act provided for the establishment of a board which will supervise and aid the marketing of fish, a business that has been injured by competition from countries where the export trade in fish received very considerable government assistance. An appropriation was also provided to boost the salt fish trade.

Defence Appropriations

An item of feature of the session was the passing of appropriations of $5 million dollars for national defence. This is the largest sum ever provided for defence in peace time. The minister, Mr. Mackenzie, whose department has been under constant bombardment on the subject on account of the Bren Gun contract, with a wide divergence of opinion as to the merits of that contract, gave an excellent explanation to the commonsense of Canada's defence needs. A considerable proportion of the money appropriated will be used in the air arm, a branch of military defence in which Canadians have already shown their outstanding ability, and which will play such an important role in future defence measures in all nations. An act was passed authorizing the appointment of a defence purchasing board, which will let all contracts of any size for munitions and defence equipment. In the act munitions profits were curtailed to a maximum of five per cent, cases where for unavoidable reasons tenders could not be asked. Close to the end of the session also was passed legislation which made more stringent the laws against espionage in Canada. The act to amend the official secrets act was amended to a large extent on lines in the United Kingdom which have been in operation for some years.

With the ratification of the trade agreement with the United States which reduced import tariffs on a wide range of commodities, the budget in the face of business uncertainties in the world, made a few additional changes in import rates. The excise tax of three per cent on imports was removed, however, from all importations except those coming in under the general tariff. The budget also, it will be recalled, endeavored to encourage industry through the reduction of income tax rates over a period of years to an amount equivalent to ten per cent of the cost of improvement and additions made to plant and machinery.

The Canadian Airline

During the session this country

took steps to keep ahead of the world progress in aviation. An act was passed to give effect to the international rules and regulations in relation to air carriage in Canada. Eastern Canada will shortly be brought into the fold of the Trans Canada Airways.

In a short time to route across the Atlantic will be in operation completing another important link in the all red lines circumnavigating the globe.

The B. Natural Music Club held their final meeting for the year at the home of the President, Gus Maddux.

Prizes for perfect attendance were given Elsie McFarland, Elva Robinson, Gladys Reade, Gordon McFarland and Frank Van Tighem. Various contests were held in which Elsie McFarland won first prize. The Club members presented their leader, Miss Gerry Van Tighem with a pair of silk hose. After a happy social hour the Club adjourned for the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrett had as guests during the week end, Mr. Earl Gillespie, Miss Alice Garrett, Mr. Art Polley and Andrew Garrett.

Miss Mary Skene and Miss Grace Davis of Carleton will be guests of Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert for the coming week end.

Further Improvement

On Main Street

Two more extensive improvements are being made on Strathmore's Main Street, which while adding to the general appearance, speaks progress and a spirit of confidence in the business both present and future for Strathmore and District which is most encouraging and satisfactory.

The additions referred to comprise the enlarging of Lambert's Drug Store by including the offices at present used by Dr. Giffen. The division of the building is being removed and the extra space thus gained will give the entire store two floors and will give the space of a modern building.

It will make a very attractive and commodious Drug Store, surpassing most small town stores and equalling many city premises.

Dr. Giffen has purchased the lot adjoining the Lambert building and already M. S. Hirtle and staff are busy in the erecting of a modern building suitable for a Doctor's office and waiting rooms.

Barber & Tradcock have moved into the Town building next door to T. E. Wright's and will welcome all patrons in the new stand.

The Strathmore Cold Storage Ltd. is proceeding apace, and is now in the hands of the plumber and his intricate piping system.

We welcome all these signs of progress and confidence in Strathmore and community.

In speaking of these healthy signs we wish to make mention of the beautiful plot at the front of the United Church. Various perennials and annuals are now growing in a spot which was once overgrown with weeds and the change is refreshing and a joy to the passer by.

The trees are in their autumn beauty.
The woodland paths are dry.
Under the October twilight the water
Mirrors a still sky:
Upon the limning water among the stones
Are nine and fifty swans.

The nineteenth Autumn has come upon me

Since I first made my count;
I saw, before I had well finished,
All suddenly mount
And scatter, wheeling, in great broken rings
Upon their clamorous wings.

I have looked upon those brilliant creatures,
And now my heart is sore,
All's changed since I, hearing at twilight,
The best of their wings above my head,
Trod with a lighter tread.

Unwearied still, lover by lover,
They paddle in the cold, Companionable streams or climb the air;
Their hearts have not grown old;
Passion or conquest, wander where they will,
Attend upon them still.

But now they drift on the still water,
Mysterious, beautiful;
Among what rushes will they build,
By what lake's edge or pond,
Or faint men's eyes, when I awake
some day

To find they have flown away?

NORTH AMERICA'S LARGEST RAIL SYSTEM

Montreal.—The Canadian National Railways is the largest railway system on the North American continent, comprising more than 23,000 miles of line and serving every important Canadian city and seaport. Apart from the actual operation of passenger, freight and express services, the Canadian National provides many other types of transport, communication and general facilities for travelers, including a chain of modern hotels and summer resorts; telegraph communications, which through exclusive Western Union connections, give worldwide service; a steamship ser-

Vancouver and other British Columbia ports.

King George and The Frood Mine

King George installed, according to press reports, upon going down the Frood mine, and rightly so. The Frood is one of the world's greatest mines, producing copper and nickel for Can-which British capital has for many years played a vitalizing role.

Canada is indebted to King George for this evidence of his practical inter-

RADIO OPINIONS AND NEWS P. Carscadden PUBLICITY DEPARTMENT CFAC

CFAC ANNOUNCER COMPLIMENTED

An uncomedian compliment was paid Pat Freeman, CFAC production manager, and special events commentator during his recent Royal Visit tour. On the Plains of Abraham at Quebec, George Hicks, vice NBC special events commentator, was to give a four-minute broadcast to NBC on his impressions as an American. When the time came for him to go on the air, Pat Freeman was giving a word-picture for the benefit of Canadian listeners, and Mr Hicks was so impressed with his delivery, that he allowed Pat to run seven minutes into his own slot on the NBC network.

Pat Freeman told us that although he wouldn't have missed the chance to be guest commentator, it was anything but a holiday or picnic. After hearing a few details we are inclined to agree with him. Rehearsals were called as early as seven o'clock in the morning. Weather conditions varied from intense heat to rain and cold bitting winds. Meals were missed, sleep was curtailed, and there was simply no time for social activities. Once Pat and another commentator were locked in a museum by mistake for several hours. At Woodstock, Bessie Track, at Toronto, Pat was suffering an attack of influenza; during the broadcast he had a temperature of one hundred and one, and was only able to continue with the aid of quinine. He travelled over seven thousand five hundred miles by train in less than twenty days—with time out for all rehearsals and broadcasts. After the commentary from Calgary, Pat flew to Vancouver, then back to Calgary, and on to Edmonton, where he was guest on the Edmonton three-hour show.

Another experience in Edmonton
Pat pushed his two hundred pounds through the dense crowd to reach his broadcasting point. He climbed a fire escape, around an obstruction disregarding to keep people off the roof, and found himself on top wrong building.
He had to retrace his steps.

Pat Freeman was the only guest commentator on the tour that is. He was the only announcer from a private station, but others were CBC staff announcers. Pat, it is believed, did more actual broadcasts, and had more time on the air than any other member of the Special Staff.

IT'S HOLIDAY TIME AGAIN!
Summer has rolled around again, and everyone is looking longingly at the green trees and fields. Jack Bennett and Pat Freeman are turning grey trying to get a holiday schedule worked out. It really is quite a job to cause while one person is away someone else has to do double work, and since all the work is special, it is difficult to get someone to fill in.

looking to the south, the U. S. A., that Chief Engineer Earle will be looking toward the west coast, as will Frank Fleming, Manager of Publicity. As for Pat Freeman, well, our bet is that it will be a very short distance away
—and not by train—these last nine thousand miles on Royal Visit Broadcasts have cured him for a while.

Actually, what's the use of a holiday? You have to work extra hours so that everything will run smoothly in your department; you have to train someone to do your daily routine; and you are all worn out by the time you leave. Then while you're away, you work in case something goes wrong.
You lie out in the sun, and get blistered, and feel miserable; or you go fishing and catch a cold; or you wear yourself out travelling, and having a good time. Then you come back to find all your work piled up on you, and everything tangled into an unholy mess. Maybe it's the rain. See how I feel next week!

ANONYMOUS ANNOUNCER CROONS

One of the rarities of radio—an announcer who receives quantities of fan mail and presents yet his identity is never revealed to the listeners. He croons the commercials on the Lux program, "The Life and Love of Dr.
Susan" which is heard over the Columbia net, every Monday through Fridays, at 11:15 a.m. over CFAC.
Most of the mail is addressed simply, "To the announcer on the Dr.
Susan program." He's received letters marked for, "The singing announcer"
"Crosby's double," and, "The Life and Love of Dr Susan's singer." Still he remains anonymous.

Mr and Mrs J. Nichol are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.

Mrs Gurnelly is again at home with her daughter, Mrs G. R. Rye, after spending several months in the Calgary Sanatorium. Her many friends wish her continued good health.

The recital put on by the pupils of Miss Violet Hyde, Friday last, was well arranged; and well received by the large gathering of parents and friends.

Mrs McKelvey entered the Calgary General hospital on Monday where she will undergo an operation. Her friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr R. Page had the misfortune to have his car stolen last Friday, in Calgary, and as yet it has not been recovered.

Mrs Enoch of B. C. sister of Mrs McKelvey is at present visiting at the parsonage.

VARIOUS DANISH AND CANADIAN HOG PRICES

This chart shows the actual dressed weight prices paid for hogs in Denmark and Canada, week by week throughout 1937, and indicates the price fluctuations that occur in both countries.

MANY farmers believe that Canadian hog prices fluctuate more than those of other important countries supplying bacon to the British market. This is not true. The graph clearly indicates that Danish hog prices are subject to similar fluctuations.

Variations in the price of bacon on the British market are largely responsible for these fluctuations.

In addition to these weekly fluctuations, the chart shows prices to be higher during the summer months. Similar variations occur year after year. This suggests that many Canadian farmers might consider how to take advantage of this condition—by adjusting their breeding practice so that more pigs will come to market when prices are normally higher.

JUNE RAINS ARE SHOWERS OF BLESSINGS FOR ALBERTA

The continued rains, soaking the earth with moisture, that will give all grains an excellent start, and provide a good reserve supply is creating a general hopeful attitude.

Raise stock in reaping the benefit of abundant pasture, grain fields and gardens are looking very healthy, and people generally are rejoicing. Motorists and Truck drivers who have dirt roads to contend with are facing the difficulties connected therewith, but are looking to the prospect of better business and the day when all roads will be hard surfaced.

THE ROYAL VISIT TO OUR NEIGHBORING REPUBLIC

THE TREMENDOUS ovation and the genuineness of the welcome accorded Their Majesties by the people of the United States from the President and Mrs. Roosevelt down, bears a greater significance than mere words can describe. The far-reaching effect of the friendship of these two great peoples will have a very great effect on policies formulated by more troublesome nations. The lack of Freedom of the Press in Germany and Italy has been so widely demonstrated, when the papers of these two dictator countries gave such unflattering reports of the reception everywhere accorded King George and Queen Elizabeth. One has a feeling akin to pity for the peoples of these countries who are so willingly kept in ignorance of the truth of outside conditions. It is such dictator conditions that causes one to realize the value of the Freedom of the Press. Just here we desire to pay high tribute to the excellent work of the Radio throughout the entire tour. Every little hamlet and isolated farmhouse could follow continuously the movements of Their Majesties. At what tremendous an arrangement of detail the key mind will never know, but it was carried through with unparalleled success.

Hats off to the Radio!

Lions' Club Improve Swimming Pool

The Strathmore Lions' Club is to be highly commended in their plan to improve the Swimming Pool in Lambert Park.

This pool when in a proper condition is a very great boon to the town, but with the earth from the sides falling in, it is merely an enlarged mud hole. The Lions plan to wall the sides, make a sand bottom, improve the approach, and so make it a clean, sanitary and attractive place for a swim. It is to raise funds for this purpose they are starting a "Big Sports Day" Wednesday, July 15. The project deserves the generous support of all town people.

Elections Around The Corner?

Rumors are steadily gaining ground that both Alberta and the Dominion will stage an election this year.

For the Province a large part of the Government's erstwhile supporters have lost faith in these methods and their leader. This is admitted by many "within the ranks." It is however generally admitted that no one party is strong enough to win of itself, and only a United Front can win the election. It is for this purpose that the Unity Council is working so zealously. Recent press reports state that the election is now being drafted. This is essential for while we hear of framing a sound business platform, a more clearly defined policy will clarify the atmosphere as many are "from Missouri." Assuredly Party politics and petty personal ambitions should be submerged in the greater aim of the Best Good for the Province.

ORGANIZING DEMOCRACY

Can Chamberlain Save Britain?—by Colin Brooks. Published by Collins, Toronto. Price $2.50.

Can democracy, as at present practiced, survive in Britain? Mr. Brooks, who is an editorial associate of Lord Rothermere, has his doubts. It is to him not a question of "better or guns" in Britain, although that may be the issue in Germany. It is question of "liberty or discipline."

Mr. Brooks writes a most convincing and realistic survey of British post-war foreign policy. His volume is a scathing indictment of "Etonism." It is a not unqualified source of praise for the realism of Mr. Chamberlain. The author recognizes the solid achievements behind the propaganda facade of the dictators. He sees Hitlerism and Fascism as a potent challenge to British democracy. We may be forced, he avers, to adopt our own business and governmental system to meet the challenge. His book is a powerful summary of the case for the extreme "Right" viewpoint, now gaining in Britain as the threat of war looms.

DOIN THE WORLD'S FAIR

(By Byron M. Fisher)

—1938—

"We want to spend this summer in Prince of Wales Island and we understand that we must pass through New Brunswick to get there," said a young couple for the funniest comment of the week. "What are the roads like in that country, paved?" We blinched for a moment, wondering just where Prince of Wales Island might be, while we assured them, "Practically all of the New Brunswick highways are paved with smooth black surface." We added, "Could you point out Prince of Wales Island on the map?" They turned to the big copper map along one end of the Canada Pavilion, and pointed. Yes, there was Prince of Wales Island far within the Arctic Circle where only a few white men have penetrated. We conceded that the roads might be paved as "paving" is understood in the phraseology of dog team mushers. They had confused the name with Prince Edward Island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Attendance figures reached a new high during the past week as hot weather struck the city and New Yorkers joined the out of town visitors in a stampede for the cooler clime of Plunk.

More than 1200 students from 27 of the Bronx public schools took part in a visit dance festival in the Court of Peace recently. The dance program, which occupied more than an hour's time, featured dances of all nations as well as the traditional Maypole dance in which the girl students whirled about colorful poles erected in the Court of Peace.

An interne who visited the "Strange As It Seems" show in the amusement area recently blamed it on the heat when he passed out at sight of "the man with the iron eyeballs." The building was air conditioned. And speaking of heat, a mob scene was enacted when a group of prepping school children near the Scott out building heard some wag yell "Free ice cream for everybody" and rushed a truck being loaded with the frozen confection. The truck drivers managed to salvage most of their cargo, however.

The local exhibit on science and education at the fair was opened formally by ceremonies which were witnessed by more than 250 of the country's leading scientists and educators. The exhibit includes the showing of a four-reel documentary film entitled "The City," sponsored by the American Institute of Planners and a series of five pictures on Nobel prize winners produced and directed by Edmund Lawrence Dorfman, president of the American Institute of Motion Pictures.

The Concert of the Schubert Choir of Bradford, Ontario, which was recently held in the Hall of Music and was largely attended, had an honorary committee which included the Governor-General of Canada and Lady Tweedsmuir. Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador and Mrs. Lindsay; the Canadian ambassador to Washington, Sir Herbert Mierer and Lady Mierer; Mayor LeGrande and Mrs. LeGrande, and the Canadian Commissioner General to the World's Fair, Douglas S. Cole and Mrs. Cole.

At another event in the Hall of Music, the meeting of the Home Makers' Association, a gesture to the friendly relations between United States and British countries was made when Mrs. Roosevelt, first speaker, was followed immediately by Miss Alma Wilson of New Brunswick, representing Canadian delegates.

A woman may be deceived, but not very often.

SOFTBALL
 Playing the A. B. C. Battery team on Sunday the local ball club came through 4-9 and 9-5 to lose by one on total points. In the first game the visiting pitcher had ten batters' stumped, and any number of errors contributed to a faulty game. In the second game however, the first seemed to have been a warm-up game, and close play and close margins featured the game, giving the fans many a thrill.

IN MEMORIAM

In ever loving memory of George Thomas Berry, who passed away June 14th, 1937.
 Ever loved and remembered by Son, Daughter and Grandson.

THE NAME OF OUR TOWN

In the Souvenir Edition of the Calgary Herald there appeared a paragraph to the effect that Strathmore is named after the Earl of Strathmore grandfather of the Queen, a statement to which I took exception in a letter to The Calgary Herald, believing, as told by Mr. William Pearce, D.L.S., that the name was selected by a native Scot from the Valley of Strathmore lying between the Grampian Mountains and the Sidlaw Hills, in the County of Angus, on the East coast of Scotland. Following my letter there appeared a communication from Mr. J. N. Wallace, of Banff, stating that our Town was named after the Earl and not after the district. I wrote Mr. Wallace, who evinces quite a lively knowledge of the subject, that it looked as if he was right and that the story as given me by Mr. Pearce was wrong.

Mr. Wallace was good enough to send me a publication "Place-Names of Alberta," published for the Geographic Board of Canada by the Department of the Interior, in which I find the following—

"Strathmore, town, 24-25-4 (C.P.R. 1884), after Charles Howard-Lyon, 13th Earl of Strathmore (1824-1904)."
 This being an official record there is nothing to be said to accept the story as authoritative, as no one would wish to disseminate error. Hereafter, therefore, let it be known that our Town was named after the Earl of Strathmore and not after the Valley from which the Earl derives his title, but as Mr. Wallace points out, "in a sense of course, the two districts are not very different, as the Earl died during from 1677, takes title from the Valley."
 I might add that cognacy is given to the view expressed by Mr. Wallace in the fact that the following stations in this part of Alberta are named after titled persons, as Suffield, South-ock, Latham, Bassano, Glendon.

SEARLE PRECIPITATION REPORT
 Compiled from 186 Rain Gauges
 Stations

The rains which have fallen from April 1st to June 4th, inclusive, combined with the precipitation which occurred during the months of August, September and October last, and, all together for wheat acreage, indicate that the moisture condition for the three prairie provinces as a unit, is now 96 per cent of the long-time average or normal, as compared with 96 per cent a week ago and 89 per cent at this time last year.
 The similar moisture condition for Alberta is now 94 per cent of normal, as compared with 92 per cent last week, and 98 per cent at this time a year ago.
 For Saskatchewan the similar condition is now 102 per cent as compared with 106 per cent last week, and 81 per cent this time a year ago.
 In Manitoba the similar condition is now 94 per cent as compared with 81 per cent a week ago, and 86 per cent at this time last year.
 All in all, then, it can be said, judging by the rainfall that has occurred, that the probabilities are good for a normal or average crop in the three Western Provinces.
